To the Editor of the Richmond Dispatch:

Statement that typnost-rever is prevained at Fort Monroe, and the same being calcu-lated to seriously injure, not only the hotel interests here, but many of the local interests of this part of the State, I beg to enclose copy of a letter written by me to the Post-Surgeon and his reply thereto, which I hope, it will be consistent with your rules to mublish.

Dr. R. S. Vickery, Post-Surgeon, Fort

in the New York Herald, Monday, February 5th, relating to Captain George W Davis's report on the sanitary and other conditions of Fort Monroe, the statements made that typhoid-fever is prevalent

Knowing that there has not been a case of typhoid-fever at this hotel for nearly a year, and that there is no condition which should give rise to it, and not being aware of the existence of typhoid anywhere on the reservation at this time, I

Yours respectfully, F. N. PIKE,

Mr. F. N. Pike, Manager Hygela Hotel:

Dear Sir,—Your letter of this date has been received, calling my attention to an article in a late number of the New York Herald, which makes the statement that typhoid-fever is prevalent here.

I do not know by what authority such an erroneous statement can be made, for there has not been any typhoid-fever in the Hygela Hotel since last May, and there is not at present a single case of the fever in the Fort or anywhere on the reservation.

Houseman to Be Tried Again.

Judge Wellford, of the Henrico Circuit Court, having granted a new trial to Houseman, who was convicted in the County Court some months ago of an assault upon his daughter, the case will come up at the approaching session of the lower tribunal, when a time will doubtless be fixed for another hearing. The chief ground upon which Judge Wellford, set aside the verdict of eight years in the penitentiary was that the lower court erred in refusing to admit the statements of Stratton and others in reference to conversations had by them with Mrs. Houseman eighteen months before the trial.

Mr. Epps and His Speech.

In his speech at the meeting of Old Dominion Club on Thursday night, Mr. John E. Epps, councilman from Jefferson Ward, is reported as having said "he had been so grossly misrepresented by drunken reporters and so-called friends that it was time for them to do him justice and tell the truth."

Mr. Epps, in conversation with a Dispatch reporter yesterday evening, said that the publication had not properly quoted him. He added that what he said had no reference whatever to representatives of this paper. W. A.
